British Commander Censured for Loss of Life in India

London, May 27.—Newspapers of this city express divergent opinions in commenting on the report of the special commission investigating recent disorders in India, which declared that General Dyer, British commander there, had, in ordering troops to fire on a crowd at Amritsar "exceeded the reasonable requirements of the case and showed misconception of duty."

The Daily News thinks that, making every allowance for the situation, "General Dyer's action in firing without warning and continuing to shoot after the mob had begun to disperse constitutes one of the blackest episodes in the history of British rule in India."

The Times trusts the verdict of the government as impartial and just.

"Before General Dyer's action he was severely judged," the Chronicle declares, "it should be remembered he was confronted by a crisis which seemed to threaten the British and under circumstances suddenly thrust upon him. These considerations do not justify his action, but they explain it."

Dandelion Becomes Sought-for Blossom

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Winchester, Va., May 27.—Prohibition and the high cost of living has elevated the lowly dandelion to lordly estate in this section of the country. Residents this spring are seeking the little yellow blossoms everywhere, scouring lawns where the dandelions have been considered a pest, country lanes and pasture fields, filling baskets with the blooms and the green leaves. The little blossoms go into old time dandelion wine. The leaves, young and tender, have long been eaten as greens similar to spinach.

SECOND ENGINE AND CREW FOR C. & N. W. YARDS

Increased Business in Dixon Shipping Requires It

On account of the amount of shipping from this point, and following a request made by local manufacturers, the Northwestern has added another switch engine and crew to its equipment in the local yards. The increased amount of shipping has made it impossible for one crew to handle the work in a single day and many times they have been forced to work until late at night in order to accommodate the shippers.

Two engines will now be used by the Northwestern in handling their business in the Dixon yards. One crew reports at 7 o'clock and the second engine will go to work at 10 o'clock in the morning. This will add greatly to the efficiency of both incoming and outgoing freight and will result in its being handled with much more dispatch than when but one switch crew were caring for the business during the rush period.

Butler Fund Has Received $40,550

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Washington, May 27.—Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler's candidacy for the Republican presidential nomination has been financed to the extent of $40,550, Judge John R. Davies, of New York City, testified today before the senate committee.

The entire fund was spent on general publicity, the witness testified. A total of $113,109 has been raised for the campaign of Senator Harding, Republican of Ohio, and $107,704 spent the committee was told by Harry L. Daugherty, representing the senator.

The committee then inquired into the campaign for W. G. McAdoo calling Dr. Burriss Jenkins, publisher of the Kansas City Post.

"Newspaper reports say you have been selected to nominate Mr. McAdoo in the convention," said Chairman Kenyon.

"Who has asked you to do that?"

"Mr. Joutet Shouse, assistant secretary of the treasury," Dr. Jenkins said. "I conferred with him and several others last night."

Among those attending the conference, the witness said, were Daniel C. Roper, former collector of internal revenue, Commissioner Robert Woolley of the interstate commerce commission and Frank Wilson, former director of Liberty Loan publicity.

Dr. Jenkins produced a letter from Mr. Shouse which said in asking him to come to Washington that "we have not even the money to pay your expenses."

Chairman Kenyon asked how many federal office holders were on the Missouri Democratic delegation.

"I doubt if there are any," Mr. Jenkins replied.

"Know of any funds being raised for the McAdoo candidacy?" Chairman Kenyon pursued.

"No sir, on the contrary those gentlemen last night said they had no funds."

He was excused.

J. S. Darst, West Virginia state auditor and Chairman of the state committee for General Wood's campaign was the next witness.

"I have here the full statement showing the $4,438 was spent in our campaign," he said. "That's every dollar, though there will be bills that I received to $2,000 more."

"I am sure $6,500 from the national headquarters. No local funds were raised," he asserted, "though friends of General Wood in different counties may have paid a little for halls and bands."

"Why we consider this a small amount to spend on a sheriff's campaign in one of our smaller counties," the witness said. "Our people have been educated up. It would have cost $55,000 just to organize the state decently for General Wood."

ATTY. ROBERT L. WARNER

Young Dixon lawyer who has announced his candidacy for the Republican nomination for States Attorney of Lee County, in September, 1917, and at the time of his discharge he was a First Lieutenant in command of a large company of men. He also served for four months as instructor in the Officers Training School at Camp Hancock, Ga.

The weather conditions this morning were ideal for the clean up work on the city island. The launches from both the north and south side docks were carrying workers to the island as early as 8 o'clock this morning, and were kept busy until after the noon hour. Workers came armed with rakes, forks, axes, lawn mowers and scythes to spend the entire day. At the noon hour after the business of the city had been suspended for the day, business and professional men joined in the movement and went to the island to do their part in cleaning it up as much as possible in one day.

A special car which was donated by the Sterling, Dixon & Eastern railway carried workers to the north side dock from the south approach to the Galena avenue bridge, starting at 11:30 and making several trips. George Netz, who has charge of the working crews on the island, took two tractors and an auto truck over to the island last night on the Andrus ferry boat, and these are proving very valuable in clearing off small trees and hauling dead ones to places where fires are burning up the rubbish as fast as it can be collected.

China Turns Down Shantung Proposal

Tokio, May 25.—(Associated Press)—Delayed—China's reply rejecting Japan's offer to open negotiations relative to the future status of Shantung has been received at the foreign office here. Japanese officials point out the withdrawal of Japanese guards was conditional upon China's opening general negotiations. It is considered the reply is a refusal of the Japanese offer, and therefore, it is probable the status quo will continue.

A Tiflis dispatch to the foreign office says the Georgians have reached an agreement with Moscow by which the Tiflis government undertakes to prevent Georgian territory being used as a base for attacks against the Bolsheviks.

The reported willingness of the Armenians to deal with the Bolsheviks is explained here by the fact that they are exposed to attack by the Turkish Nationalists on the one side and by the Bolsheviks on the other, and desire an arrangement assuring tranquility on the north.

Sims Declares All Evidence Proves Truth of Charges

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Washington, May 27.—Hear Admiral Sims appearing before the senate naval investigating committee today in rebuttal testimony, declared that "the navy departments witnesses" had revealed a condition in the navy "even more distressing than I could have imagined and constitutes a much more severe criticism of the deplorable conditions referred to than I myself have submitted."

"A very careful review of the evidence," said the admiral, "shows that in no single instance were the thirteen points raised by me in criticism, disproved. Most of them were freely admitted. The testimony of the department's witnesses seemed to be designed, not to disprove, but to explain them away or to obscure them."

Admiral Sims read from a long prepared statement quoting from the testimony of Admiral Benson and Rear Admiral Badger, McKean, Fletcher and Niblack and Captain Pratt. They, he said, attributed the conditions to the faulty organization of the navy department and favored reorganization.

Secretary Daniel's testimony, Admiral Sims declared, had been remarkable "alike for its mistakes and misinterpretations and for its unrestrained assault upon my services during the war."

Turkish Leader Says Treaty is Death Sentence

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Angora, Asia Minor, May 17.—Unalterable opposition to the treaty of peace the allies have submitted to Turkey was expressed here today by Mustapha Kemal Pasha, leader of Turkish Nationalist forces.

The allied powers, led by Great Britain, condemned Turkey to death, he declared, and began to apply their decision by the very direct material manifestation known to the world. The Turkish nation naturally has declined to accept such a sentence. The Turkish government was unable to resist the verdict and fell into the hands of the British by the sudden occupation of Stamboul.

"The Turkish nation, left without government in such a mortal crisis, took the responsibility for its own life into its own hands and created a people's government composed of its own representatives in Angora."

"Men commanded by Anzevour Pasha the former Circassian bandit, who is now supporting the sultan's government enter villages and begin pillaging, calling themselves Nationalists to discredit the real Nationalist movement."

DIXON TELEGRAPH.

LAST OF REPUBLICAN DELEGATES ELECTED

MANY CONTESTS SURE

No Candidate Has Nearly Enough Votes for Nomination

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Chicago, May 27.—Candidates for the Republican nomination for the presidency today opened their final drive for the 439 votes that spell victory in the convention which opens here one week from next Tuesday.

The last of the 984 delegates who will sit in the convention were selected yesterday when Vermont Republicans met and chose eight delegates.

Major General Leonard Wood, present returns show, will enter the convention with more instructed votes than any other candidate, but his total of 153 is less than one-third of the number necessary to win the nomination. The division of strength among the large field of "favorite sons" practically precludes any possibility of a nomination on the first ballot. Even the most optimistic campaign managers here are not claiming victory before the third ballot, and the more conservative party leaders predict the break will not come before the fifth or sixth at the earliest.

145 Contests Sure.

One big factor which may upset campaign managers' predictions is yet to be dealt with. One hundred and forty-five contests have been or will be, more than one-seventh of all the seats in the convention being at stake. The national committee meets here Monday to decide these contests.

The principal contests are between supporters of Major General Wood and Governor Frank O. Lowden. Senator Johnson and other candidates are not directly interested in these contests, but may raise questions regarding primary contests in South Dakota, New Jersey, Indiana, Michigan, Nebraska and other states.

In addition to the 145 contests 64 surplus delegates with fractional votes have been chosen from ten states and the Republican national committee's rules provide that their right to seats shall also be contested.

How Delegates Stand.

Senator Hiram Johnson and Senator Howard Sutherland of West Virginia were the principal gainers in primaries and conventions held in four states during the past week. Senator Johnson, returns indicate, will get nine of Oregon's ten votes and Senator Sutherland sixteen from West Virginia. The official count has not been completed in Oregon and West Virginia. Texas Republicans split into two factions, each of which elected an uninstructed delegation with 23 votes. Figures compiled here show the following the division of the convention vote:

Major General Leonard Wood, 153.
Senator Hiram Johnson, 109.
Governor Frank O. Lowden, 74.
Favorite sons and uninstructed, 643.

In the favorite son list, Senator Warren G. Harding has 39 votes, from Ohio; Senator Sutherland, 16 from West Virginia; Senator Miles Poin-dexter is expected to receive Washington's 14; and Judge Pritchard of North Carolina is expected to get 17 of his state's 22 votes.

Campaign managers here of the three leading candidates all claim victory in statements issued last night. The Wood and Johnson camps make definite predictions as to their first ballot vote, the supporters of the general claiming 385 votes and those of the senator 234. The Lowden forces, while professing their confidence, do not quote exact figures.

Erect Extra Balconies.

Charles R. Gall, superintendent of the coliseum, has assured the convention committee that more than 1,300 seats will be ready. Extra balconies are being erected to provide nearly 1,000 more seats than at any previous convention.

The speaker's platform and seats for 2,000 distinguished visitors already have been erected. In the coliseum seats, officers of the convention committee and officers and the room of the national committee where the contests will be heard next week have been in readiness for some time.

National convention arriving early this week and a majority of the 53 members are expected to be on hand by Monday. Chairman Hays will arrive Sunday. A. T. Hert, of Louisville, chairman of the convention committee on arrangements arrived yesterday.

Because the Telegraph went to press at noon today, in co-operation with the business houses of the city which closed for the island cleanup work, the market reports are incomplete. Corn Market Was Weaker This Morn
By Associated Press Leased Wire
Chicago, May 27.—Reports that more corn was being offered by the country than for weeks past did a good deal today to weaken the corn market. Iowa offerings were said to be especially free. Aggressive support was lacking. Opening prices, which ranged from 7 1/2¢ to 1 1/2¢, were followed by a material setback all around. Oats sagged with corn. After opening 1/4¢ off to 1/2¢ including July at 9 1/2¢ to 9 1/4¢ the market underwent a general fall. Provisions reflected the weakness of grain. An upturn in hog values failed to act as an offset.

Southwell, who recently broke her arm, invited a number of guests for Wednesday afternoon in honor of her mother's birthday as a surprise for Mrs. Southwell. A most delicious luncheon was served during the afternoon and later the guests showered Mrs. Southwell with handkerchiefs. The guests included Mrs. B. Dewey, Mrs. Mary Fane, Mrs. Mary Morgan, Mrs. Eldena Fisher, Mrs. Fred Smith, Mrs. Charles Duis, and Miss Marion Ackert, the latter of Calhoun, Ill., who is here visiting her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Abram Ackert. The afternoon was a delightful one for all.

BUSY BEES SWARMED—
The Busy Bees of St. Paul's Lutheran church met recently at the church in an all-day picnic. Plans had been made to go to Lowell but the weather man saw fit to send rain, and spoil that, but the day was delightfully spent, nevertheless. Fourteen members of the class and six guests enjoyed the day together and the picnic luncheon at noon. The teacher, Miss Mildred Page, furnished the ice cream and cake which formed the dessert course. Games and music combined to make the remainder of the day delightful.

M. E. CHOIR—
Mrs. L. E. Edwards wishes to meet all the members of the Senior choir promptly at 7:30 tomorrow evening at the church for the rehearsal of special music for the Sunday morning Memorial Day service. The ladies' quartette will have its rehearsal at 7:00.

SERVICE STAR LEGION—
The Service Star Legion held its regular meeting on Monday evening, May 24th, in G. A. R. hall, opening the program with the singing of America and the reading of scripture passages and the repeating of the Lord's Prayer. Twenty-six members were present. In the absence of Mrs. Walter Mueller, color bearer, Mrs. George served in that capacity. All the members were greatly elated over the report of the Calico and Overall ball, given by the Ways and Means committee, which showed that $157.50 was cleared. Report was also made on the serving of doughnuts and coffee to the American Legion at their Thursday evening meeting. A tea will be given on Tuesday afternoon, June 8th, for the benefit of the American-France Children's League, of which Mrs. Kent is chairman for Ogle, Whiteside and Lee counties. Mrs. J. W. Crawford was placed at the head of the committee having the tea in charge.
Several members were reported to be ill, some in the hospital. The Service Star Legion has been requested by the American Legion to serve the banquet to be given by the losers to the winning side in the membership campaign which is being conducted. This banquet will be served on June 24th. The meeting closed with "The Star Spangled Banner," sung in unison.

Sister Mary's Kitchen

(Copyright, 1920, N. B. A.)

The care given an electric iron will determine the life of it. Whenever the iron is dropped damage is done to the heating element and the jerk weakens the connecting wires. A laundress never seems to realize this and time after time lets the iron slide to the floor when she puts a skirt over the board.

Never try to cook on the upturned surface of the iron. This causes the iron to overheat, burns out the heating element and ruins the iron for its real purpose.

Menu for Tomorrow.

Breakfast—Compote of fruit, uncooked cereal, cinnamon toast, coffee.

Luncheon—Cream of tomato soup, toasted crackers, herring salad, hot rolls, tea.

Dinner—Broiled sirloin steak, French fried potatoes, string beans, stuffed hot salad, baked custard, sponge cake, coffee.

My Own Recipes.

If you have 1 orange, 1 grapefruit, 1 banana, 1 apple and 3 or 4 stewed prunes and a slice of pineapple in the pantry and it's Friday and the only reason you'd go to market would be for fruit, mix all the fruit out in dice and serve it as a compote. The fruit may be prepared the night before. Sprinkle a little sugar over it, put it in a tightly covered bowl and set in a cold place. In the morning it will only take a minute to "dish it up."

HERRING SALAD.

1 cup flaked herring.
 1/2 cup minced celery.
 1 cup cold boiled potatoes (diced).
 3 hard-boiled eggs finely chopped.
 Cook salt herring in boiling water 10 cover for 15 minutes. Drain, cool and separate into flakes. Mix ingredients with French dressing and let stand an hour. Add the following dressing:
 1/4 cup whipping cream.
 3 canned pimientos.
 1/2 cup mayonnaise.

Whip cream and add pimientos rubbed through a sieve. Mix with mayonnaise. Arrange hearts of lettuce in a salad bowl and all the salad.

STRING BEANS.

2 table spoons butter.
 2 medium-sized onions.
 2 cups canned tomatoes.
 3 cups canned string beans.
 1 teaspoon salt.

teaspoon pepper.

2 cloves.

1 tablespoon sugar.

1/2 cup buttered bread crumbs.

Melt butter and add onion sliced very fine. Cook until onion is a straw color. Run tomatoes through a strainer to remove seeds but force the pulp through. Add tomato and seasonings to onion. Let simmer till thick. Add beans and turn into a buttered baking dish. Cover with crumbs and put in a hot oven to brown.

Where angels fear to tread—on a freshly scrubbed kitchen floor.

Paw Paw Man Sues in Aurora Courts

Aurora, Ill., May 26.—A novel point of law growing out of a suit filed by Ernest Widmer, of Paw Paw, against T. L. Stevens, of Maple Park, will be passed upon by Justice Batten Saturday. Widmer, an agent for the National Fire Roofing company of Chicago, is suing Stevens for commissions on an order for 14,700 feet of tile which Stevens bought of the company through another man in territory claimed by Widmer. Stevens' lawyer, Olney Allen of Aurora, contends that Widmer should sue the company for his commissions. Widmer's the commission he would have gotten on the sale as it was with Widmer that Stevens made the contract. He attempted to cancel the order he had given Widmer, when he found an agent through him he felt he could make a more profitable deal, but Widmer refused to lease Stevens.

Our Candidate for President
FRANK O. LOWDEN

THE CHESTNUT

The white pine has been saved from the threatening pine-tree disease which originated in Siberia and was brought here from western Europe.

But all hope is abandoned of saving the American chestnut tree from the blight brought here from China.

Efforts to stop the spread of this bark disease have been given up.
Scientists are warning owners to cut down even the chestnut trees which so far have escaped it.

Ten years ago the chestnut exported in a single season from Virginia alone were worth $20,000. All chestnut produce that year were valued at $20,000,000. The value of chestnut trees then standing in this country was estimated at $400,000,000.

Chestnut tree blight was not dangerous to the Oriental chestnut tree with which it was brought to this country. To the native species it was always fatal. No other plant disease has been so deadly. And all efforts to stop it spreading failed.

The money value is not the only loss. The chestnut tree has been a conspicuous and beautiful feature of the landscape in this country, and of special interest to every country boy at the time of the first frost each fall.

Schoolboys of the future who read the poem of the village blacksmith will ask, "What is a chestnut tree?" and
"What is a chestnut?"

ANOTHER STEEL TRUST

The U. S. Steel Corporation is to share the steel trust spotlight with another huge steel combine.

The largest independent companies are getting together, and it is expected in Wall street that soon the announcement of the new "trust" will be made.

Bethlehem and Lackawanna Steel interests are engineering the big deal.
These are the largest of the independent concerns, and will, of course, dominate the new corporation, which, in effect, will be nothing more than a Bethlehem-Lackawanna partnership.
But it will be a mammoth one, second only to the child of Morgan's finan-ciating.

And then, probably, there'll come the day when the two "trusts" are brought together into one gigantic steel corporation, which will make the present steel octopus appear quite insignificant.

Apparently it is up to some of our reformers to start a vice president crusade.

even be subnormal, and the patient may not be unconscious.

SUNSTROKE.

Sunstroke is very dangerous, and every effort should be made to get a physician, first aid should not be neglected. Remove the patient to a cool place, and, in the meantime, try to reduce the temperature by cold baths, even playing a hose on the sufferer. Apply ice or cold compresses to the head and chest. If it is possible, place the patient in a bath-tub of cold water. If this is done, the body should be rubbed vigorously during the treatment to prevent shock. When consciousness is restored, let the patient drink freely of cold water. Discontinue the cold applications to the body unless the temperature begins to rise again.

HEAT-EXHAUSTION.

In heat-exhaustion, stimulants, rather than cold applications, are needed. Administer aromatic spirits of ammonia, coffee, tea or whisky well diluted. The object here is to restore the enfeebled circulation.

Sunstrokes and heat-exhaustion usually come when the fatigued person is exposed to the sun on hot days, although heat-exhaustion is common indoors, under almost any circumstances where one may become overheated.

Avoid the direct rays of the summer sun as much as possible during the heat of the day. Seek the shady side of the street and wear a hat that will protect the head from the sun. Persons feeling themselves becoming over-heated may often avoid heat prostration, or sunstroke, if they will immediately find a cool place and lie down.

Q.—Can chronic catarrhal deafness be cured? Was not noticed for about a year. After that time, being about six months ago, started treatment each week by special physician on those cases. As yet, do not seem to notice change for the better. Doctor using the blowing-out treatment, working through the nose. Do you think after persistent treatment same will improve, or can it grow worse steadily? Am 22. Have noise in ears. Hearing is bad.

A.—It is not possible to give a positive answer to this question. Everything would depend upon the condition present in a particular case. In some instances proper treatment will cause an improvement in the symptoms, but in many other cases even treatment at the hands of a skillful specialist is unsuccessful. It is suggested that you discuss the matter fully with the doctor who is treating you.

Q.—Since this winter I have tonsillitis, and am bothered very much with same. Never had trouble before. Do you think the removal of my tonsils would improve the condition? Would I be able to hear better? Does this trouble grow steadily worse, or is there any way to check it?

A.—Sometimes the removal of the tonsils is indicated, and often when this is done hearing is improved, owing to be the resulting improvement in the catarrhal condition, which so frequently responsible for interfering with hearing.

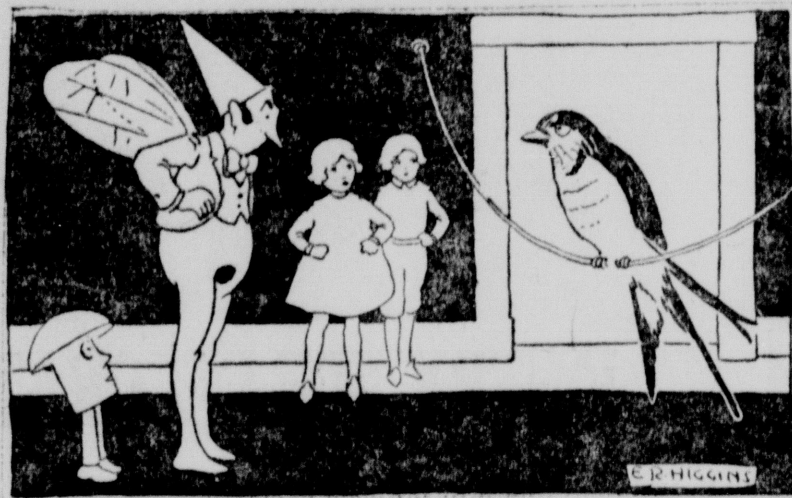

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS
by Olive Roberts Barton

Mr. Swallow Gets In

Scrub up Land was pretty empty by this time. Rubadub, the fairyman was beginning to look up cupboards, and put things away for next year; the paint brushes had been cleaned, paint pots covered, glue bottles stoppered, scrubbing buckets and tubs turned upside down, and rags hung up to dry. The animals and birds and flowers nearly all had gone to the Land-Where-Spring-Is-Coming. The only ones left were a few slow in drying or a stray bug or two that had forgotten something and come back.

Nancy and Nick were rolling down their sleeves and getting ready to go home, for the Magical Mushroom said it was evident their lost monkey wasn't coming to Scrub-Up Land at that late date. And the Green Shoes said they were ready to go any time, and just to let them know.

The twins were about to say "Good bye to Rubadub, when there was a fluttering of wings and in rushed Sleeker Swallow in his evening clothes. (And, mind you, it was morning.)

"Am I too late?" he panted. "I didn't realize time was going so, and here I've been playing out in mid-ocean, having the most fun grabbing tiny bugs and things off the top of the water. It just occurred to me that it must be time to go to the Land-Where-Spring-Is-Coming, so here I am to get fixed up! Have the dandelions gone yet, and the bees?" he asked, looking around anxiously.

"Yes," nodded Nancy, remembering how Queen Bee had shivered as she spoke of Mr. Swallow. No wonder! If he looked so greedy when he just said bees, how would he look when he saw them? But he changed the subject. "I wish to speak about my clothes," he said. (Copyright, 1920, N. E. A.)

Confessions of a Bride
(Copyright 1920, by The Newspaper Enterprise Association)

"We should all be rejoicing about Chrys's recovery," said Bob after he and his sister had wept in each other's arms. "And there's no more worry to be tied onto me. Still—I find gloom enough around this place to sink a ship! What's up?"

I countered quickly with: "What became of Hamilton Certes?"

"Is it worry over his fate that keeps you girls from smiling?" Bob asked with a pretense of jealousy in his frown. "I guess not! Here's the story about him and about me. I want to get it off my chest. I never want to speak of our Mexican adventures again in my life!"

"Nor do I!" I said.

"Nor do I!" echoed Chrys.

"Listen, girls! And don't interrupt me with questions. You remember, Jane, that you and I left Certes, wounded and growling in the secret chamber? Next day, after Donna Camilla had swapped Chrys for Certes, and after we had put Chrys safely in the car with Spence, the old woman insisted that I go with her to the hidden room and help her to take Certes away. She said that she couldn't reveal the hiding place to any of the servants, but that since I already knew about it, I could be of great service to her.

"Well, when we entered the place, Certes was not there! I turned upon the old woman. I accused her of trapping me. She admitted that she had. And you know, Jane, that nobody can get out of that place without knowing about the springs which control the panels in the wall. Don Camilla told me that Don Manuel had fled to the coast and that he had taken Certes with him. She laughed as she told me."

"You mean—they took ship—for a foreign port?" I stammered.

"For South America, the dame said."

"Then they were caught in the most terrible storm known on the gulf for years," I said solemnly. "What if the ship went down?"

"Some retribution, I should say," was Bob's reply. "But I'll bet Certes didn't even get wet. That man has more lives than a cat. Say, how did the 'ione' weather the storm? Has the governor wireless any of you?"

I shook my head. I couldn't speak.

"Dad has always been careless of the tender feeling of his family," Bob continued. "But to go on with my story—and be done with it forever: Donna Camilla informed me that she had trapped me because she hated all Americans and was bound to have the blood of one of us. Pleasant person, she was. She said that if I didn't die fast enough to please her, she would come some day when I had grown too weak to resist and end my misery with her own hands. She was crazy, or, course. Hardly had she finished her hymn of hate than the walls of the room began to tremble. The quake was on again! I expected to see the roof fall in. But it didn't. The quake merely locked all those secret panels tight! The old woman flew from one to the other. She raged. She swore. But she couldn't bulge one of them. Then the final shock of the quake came and killed her. Heart failure, I suppose."

"An awful retribution!" I exclaimed. "She died in the place where she had tried to murder others! And you had to live by the side of that corpse for days! Oh, Bob!"

"There's nothing horrible about the dead, my dear. Even that ancient creature had a certain dignity—when she was gone. My great horror was due to hunger—in sight of food. There was plenty—but it was poisoned, she said. And the water, too."

Of course Chrys and I were in tears and therefore Bob, with his characteristic abruptness, changed the subject.

"I say, let's wireless the 'ione' and find out what the big storm did to father!"

SUMMER IS NEAR.

Before very long, if this summer is to be at all severe, cases of sunstroke and heat-exhaustion may be expected. Because of the fact that a physician is not always available, it is well to know what to do in the nature of first aid.

There is always danger of mistaking sunstroke for heat-exhaustion, or the reverse, and one should be able to distinguish between the two.

In sunstroke the patient is unconscious, the skin is very hot and dry; and there is usually a temperature of over 103 degrees Fahrenheit. In heat-exhaustion the skin is moist and clammy, the temperature is lower and may

OBITUARY.

JAMES CHRISTIANCE

James M. Christiance passed away at his home, 322 Grant avenue, May 17 at 1:30 in the morning at the ripe age of 82 years. He leaves a wife and eleven children to mourn his death.

James M. Christiance was married to Miss Caroline Hook, the year of 1858 on April 1st. To this union were born thirteen children, Mrs. Claude Hopp of Chicago, James Christiance, Jr., preceded his father in death, Coles C. Christiance, died in infancy, William Christiance, Salem, O. Katherine Eastman, Manitowish, Wis., John Christiance of this city, Lettie Perry of Nebraska, Mark Christiance of St. Paul, Minn., Everett Christiance, Morrison, Ill., Arlie B. Rolfe of this city. Thirty-two grandchildren and three great grandchildren also survive.

James Christiance was a veteran of the Civil war. One of his sons served his country, following in his father's footsteps in the Spanish-American war, one grandson served in the late world war and another is now a member of the regular army.

On August 15, 1835, Abram V. and Caroline C. Christiance drove overland in their immigrant wagon from Schenectady, N. Y., and settled in what was then known as Melugin's Grove, in Brooklyn township, this county. Two weeks later, a son, Cornelius Everett was born, being the first white child born in the township. It was here that the parents built their log cabin which served also as a tavern in the early days and began their pioneer life in the west on a tract of government land. Mr. and Mrs. Christiance were the parents of 16 children, four boys and three girls who grew to maturity.

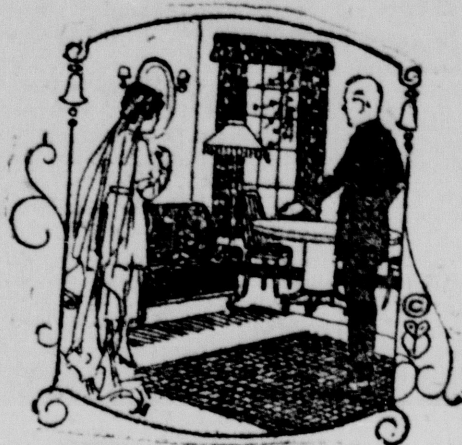

James M. Christiance was the second son born at the new home, March 17, 1838. When the call for men in '61 was received, James was the first of the four sons to enlist, the others following shortly afterwards. On May 24, 1861, he was mustered into the service in Company C of the 13th Infantry with John B. Wyman as colonel, to serve for a period of three years.

During this time he was engaged in battles at Chickasaw Bayou, Arkansas Post, Vicksburg, Jackson, Missionary Ridge, Roseville and Ringgold Gap. He was mustered out at Springfield, June 18, 1864. Immediately after his discharge he re-enlisted and served until the end of the war. While in service he was wounded at Ringgold Gap. His officers always found him a willing soldier, one who always did his duty cheerfully, ever ready to serve his fellow men.

AMERICAN FILMS TOO
REALISTIC FOR MADGE

Liverpool—"I do not like American film acting," sighs Miss Madge Tith-

Movies take precedent over all ex-reasons.

MUST SPEND 3 DAYS
EACH YEAR IN SOLITARY

Akron—John O. Smith, 21, confessed murder accomplice, has begun life imprisonment here. Three days each year, on the anniversary of his crime he will be placed in solitary confinement, under the order of the court.

English educators have found that the increase in motion picture theaters has been followed by a decrease in the circulation of cheap literature.

Why the Maytag Washes
Any Fabric Perfectly

UNLIKE other washing machines, the cylinder of the Maytag has only five openings, each one constructed on the principle of the old-fashioned millrace. As the cylinder revolves, the hot, soapy water is forced through these openings.
It breaks inside with a forceful action which thoroughly flushes the dirt out of the clothes. At least 5 times with each revolution of the cylinder this flushing action takes place. Results are astonishing.

No hands could be more gentle than the smooth aluminum Maytag cylinder. Positively nothing touches the clothes except the sudsy water. It flushes through the fabric carrying the dirt with it and leaving spotless cleanliness. Dainty georgette blouses, delicate frocks, lingerie, etc., are beautifully cleansed. Big washings, including sheets, spreads, heavy dresses and underwear, even drapes and rag rugs, are handled with unusual speed.

Come to our store and see the Maytag—see its strong, all-metal construction, its durable cast-aluminum cylinder. See how in the Maytag, all moving parts are enclosed. See how easily it is to start and how quietly it runs and see the quick release, adjustable electric wringer. And we want you to understand the wonderful action of the Mill-race Principle. Then judge for yourself if without these features you could ever be fully satisfied. Come to our store for a demonstration today.

All fabrics are woven like a screen.
Most dirt clogs the meshes. The forceful action produced by the Mill-race Principle flushes the dirt out of the meshes—the logical way.

Polish Forces are Repulsed in Drive

London, May 26.—Retchitsa, a village on the right bank of the Dnieper river about 125 miles north of Kiev, has been occupied by Russian Bolshevik forces which are also advancing on the fortified outskirts of Bobruisk, on the Berezina, according to an official statement issued in Moscow yesterday and received here by wireless.
Fighting is proceeding 16 miles northeast of Kiev, the statement declares, and attacks by Polish and Ukrainian troops southeast of Kiev have been repulsed.
Along the upper reaches of the Berezina river soviet forces are said to be advancing. On this front the battle is going on over a line forty miles long.
Polish forces fighting in front of Minsk have received reinforcements and are fighting stubbornly, the statement says.

Another Attack on Inter-church Move

Charlotte, N. C., May 26.—An attack on the inter-church world movement was launched in the general assembly of the Southern Presbyterian church here today. Dr. Joseph I. Vance of Nashville declared "a lot of money had been wasted by officials of the movement" and declared it was now enveloped in "a crisis of severe and widespread criticism."

Thirty-six delegates with one vote each and sixteen delegates at large with one-fourth vote each were elected to represent Texas at the National Democratic convention at San Francisco, June 28. These forty votes go unopposed, although the convention adopted a resolution highly commending William G. McAdoo as a presidential possibility. Postmaster General A. S. Burleson was elected.

Methodists Split on Amusement Edict

Des Moines, Ia., May 28.—A distinct division of opinion regarding the amusement paragraph in the discipline of the Methodist Episcopal church is shown by the filing with the general conference of a minority report which recommends that the paragraph be removed. The majority report asks that the paragraph be retained.

The minority report called attention to the fact that another paragraph of the discipline advises very strongly against dancing, card playing, theatre-going, horse racing and certain other amusements, and recommends that this one stand as the pronouncement of the attitude of the church on this matter. It is the opinion of members of the committee that this paragraph sufficiently defines the attitude of the church against such diversions.

ROMANCE OF U. OF I.

Urbana, Ill., May 26.—The University of Illinois was the setting this year for a French romance which became known today when Miss Jeanne Seignier of Belfort and M. Guist, a former lieutenant in the French army is a government student here. He was forced from active service by wounds. Miss Seignier is a member of the faculty and has been in this country two years.
